Removal Of Shops Threatened

LAST RESORT BY L. E. & W. HEADS

Action Depends on Outcome of Strike, Maginn Says

MEN ARE STANDING FIRM

Railroads to Contract Repair Work if Necessary

Removal of the L. E. & W. car repair shops from this city to any point within a radius of 200 miles, where repairs can be made, is threatened by officials of the road unless the strike of railway shopmen in this city is settled soon.

Development of the next week or two, J. J. Maginn, superintendent of motive power at the Lake Erie, declared Wednesday, may swing the matter one way or another.

He intimated that railroad officials were holding the removal plan as a final resort in case workers in this city do not return to their jobs.

WILL CONTRACT WORK

Likewise, he declared, contract work would be let out in all cases where repairs necessary on the rolling stock of the road during the strike cannot be taken care of by the small force now at work at the shops.

Maginn said the strike is in no way worrying the officials of his road. Preparations, he said, are being made to care for all emergencies that may arise.

REMOVAL LAST RESORT

He emphatically declared that the removal would be considered as a final measure in combating the difficulties encountered by the railroad as a result of the strike.

Foremen at the L. E. & W. roundhouse, Maginn said, are managing to take care of all the repair work that is coming into the shop at the present time. Engines, he said, are as a rule, being run thru this city, for repair elsewhere.

Striking shopmen Wednesday remained firm in their stand on the matter of the $135,000,000 wage cut ordered by the railway labor board and which resulted in the walkout.

The declaration of railway officials that no consideration will be given strikers when a return by them to their jobs is imminent, caused a ripple of laughter among L. E. & W. strikers.

NO TROUBLE SO FAR

Seven men were brought into this city over the Fourth of July, to fill places made vacant by the strike at the Pennsylvania roundhouse, W. W. Crooks, general agent, said.

At the B. & O. foremen are reported to be taking care of the work. Likewise at the L. E. & W., what work is being forced into the shops is being cared for by foremen who remained at their work and few men who have returned since the strike got underway.

DRY LAW BACKED BY HARDING

President Restates His Position in Marion Speech

DIFFERS WITH WEEKS' VIEWS

Declares Amendment Must Be Upheld by Government

(BY HERBERT W. WALKER)

MARION (United Press).—President Harding has made it plain that strict enforcement of the prohibition amendment and the Volstead law is the official position of his administration.

He has also rather clearly indicated that Secretary of War Weeks' assertion that the Volstead law is the cause of much unrest in the country today and his advocacy of its modification does not represent the attitude of the administration.

These were the views of those close to the president today, following the action of the president here yesterday going out of his way somewhat to restate his official position on prohibition.

CAUSES FOR STATEMENT

The view here was that the president felt it necessary to make the dry declaration because of reports of a growing impression in the prohibition states of the middle-west that the administration was not "bone dry." These reports are said to have sprung up following the Weeks' speeches and the ruling of the shipping board that liquor can be sold on American ships outside the three-mile zone.

Harding's statement, it was said, should not be considered a slap at Secretary of War Weeks, because the president is a cabinet officer and should be allowed to express his opinions without any dictation on his part.

"The 18th amendment," he said, "denies to a minority a fancied sense of personal liberty, but the amendment is the will of America and must be sustained by the government, also contempt for the law will undermine our institutions."

No comment was forthcoming from the president early today on the action of the coal operators and miners for adjourning until his return to Washington, the conference Harding called to settle the coal strike.

REVIEWS PARADE

Harding today reviewed a parade of American Legionnaires with General Pershing and Commander MacNider of the American Legion.

He plans to go to Columbus tomorrow morning and then leave for the return motor trip to Washington, Friday morning, in the hope of arriving in the capital Saturday night.

Other ceremonies today at the continued Marion centennial celebration, were a concert by the Columbus Glee Club; addresses by General J. Warren Kiefer. A historical pageant, depicting the development of Marion and a reunion at the fair grounds with addresses by Commander MacNider; Eddie Rickenbacker, famous ace and Brigadier General John R. McQuigg, and a barbecue for visiting Legion men.

Harding's visit here was the signal for the gathering of politicians from all over the state and several efforts have been made to discuss the situation in Ohio with Ohio. So far these are said to have failed, partly because of his desire for rest.

Among the politicians here is Representative Fess, candidate for senator.

"FLAPPER-FOTO" CAUSES SCHOOL WAR

MISS GLADYS LAVERTY'S "FLAPPER-FOTO"

Graduate Wins Right to Have Picture Made With Make-up

EUREKA, Cal.—(Special).—This is the story of a "flapper-foto" that caused a school war. Also, this is the photograph. Also, this little city has recognized the right of a high school graduate to appear in "make-up."

Miss Gladys Laverty caused the "revolt."

It had been arranged that photos of high school graduates would appear in the annual publication in "demure garb." But Miss Laverty didn't like the looks of her photo. She had another one taken showing her with "Cupid bow" lips and other trimmings.

Just before publication the faculty found it out.

Someone demolished the copper plate of Miss Laverty.

The student body president threatened to resign. The class all but refused to be graduated. Miss Laverty wept. Things were adjusted at the eleventh hour.

But when graduation night arrived Miss Laverty was given a great ovation by the spectators.

"We're afraid," said some faculty members, "that make-up has been given unanimous endorsement."

50 PER CENT BACK AT SOME POINTS

Strike is Begun, However, by Maintenance Men

CLERKS AND FIREMEN QUIT

Disorders at Places in South Ark Reported

CHICAGO—(Associated Press).—Striking railway shop men, who walked out in answer to the nationwide call from the headquarters of the six shop crafts unions here last Saturday, were reported drifting back to work today in groups of uncertain numbers.

Today was considered the turning point in the strike of the 350,000 to 400,000 workers. Altho responding generally to the call last Saturday, railroad officials insisted that many of the defections were due to the desire of the men to take a holiday over the Fourth of July.

Local union reports to the office of B. M. Jewell, head of the shop men, reiterated the union assertion that the strike was 100 per cent effective at all points reporting.

MAINTENANCE MEN

Maintenance of way men, despite the decision of that union's executive council here last night to postpone strike action for the present, were also reported to be joining the walkout. Such reports reached President Jewell's headquarters and were confirmed by news dispatches.

Freight handlers, clerks and stationery firemen and others joined the deserting ranks of shop men at various points, altho fully as many shop reported that men were returning to work today. The railroads generally were advertising for new men to take the strikers' places and several roads were completing arrangements to handle their repairs at outside shops.

DISORDERS IN SOUTH

Small disorders appeared at several points, mostly in the south, where numerous roads placed guards over their bridges and other vulnerable points.

Conflicting reports came from the Pennsylvania shops at Pittsburgh, both sides claiming gains today. Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and Baltimore and Ohio shops reported gains. Double pickets were placed about the shops and yards at New York City and heavy picketing continued in Chicago.

The Union Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, N. C. and St. L., Georgia railroad and Burlington and a dozen other roads issued flats setting a final date on which the strikers must return to work or forfeit their seniority rights.

TRAINS STOPPED

The first reported suspension of service, due to the strike, came from the Chicago and Northwestern, which announced annulment of several short run trains in northern Illinois.

Michigan Central shops, however, announced heavy returns to their plants. Fifty per cent of the men returned at Toledo, Ohio, it was announced and 350 out of 300 returned at Jackson City, Mich.

The maintenance of way union, whose officers yesterday decided to delay their threatened strike received the sympathy and congratulations of the striking railway shopmen from B. M. Jewell, the shopmen's head.

Mr. Jewell declared that the maintenance of way union's action was not a surprise and added that "if they can find a way out of their difficulties they are to be congratulated."

The shop strikers are standing pat. Mr. Jewell said, and have not relented a single point. The farming out of shop work he said has not ceased, despite the statement of a dozen railroad officials before the labor board last week that they would cancel all contracts.

"Their promises mean nothing," said Mr. Jewell.

Reports from various local unions received at union headquarters today affirmed the leaders' statement that the walkout was "practically 100 per cent."

From Roanoke, Va., came the report that foremen of maintenance of way labor and clerks were quitting their jobs in sympathy with the shopmen. Traffic was reported suspended north on the Norfolk and Western, stopping coal shipments for the Pennsylvania railway.

At Huntington, W. Va., the Chesapeake and Ohio, shopmen were reported "all out."

REPLACING STRIKERS

TOLEDO—(Associated Press).—Rapid strides in replacing railroad shopmen who went out on strike last Saturday was reported in several of Toledo's most important railroad shops today.

The largest proportional replacement was claimed by the Michigan Central shops, where it was claimed by shop officials that fully 50 per cent of the vacancies caused by the strike had been filled.

Many applications for mechanics positions have been received by the Pennsylvania company's employment office and indications are that the strikers' jobs will be filled in a short time it was stated at the office of the company.

New men are being put to work steadily at the New York Central shops at Airline Junction, shop officials reported. But they decline to state the number or proportion of the old men whose jobs have been taken.

No disorders between strikebreakers and unionists have been reported.

3 ARRAIGNED IN BIG ROBBERY

"Count" and Pals Charged With $2,000,000 Theft

BONDS TAKEN FROM MAIL

$500,000 Worth of the Securities Unearthed

(BY CARL VICTOR)

NEW YORK (United Press)—Recovery of $1,500,000 loot of the most sensational postal robbery of years, was near today, as Gordon McCarthy, "human bloodhound," brought the gang of Edward Bryce, alleged gentleman crook, into court, Bryce swaggered before United States Commissioner Hitchcock with a cane swinging on his arm and a monocle in his eye. The "Count" as he was known to his band, was awaiting arraignment on charges of robbing the mails of bonds estimated at $2,000,000.

Charles P. McInnes and Charles Lambert, who was charged with having participated in the mail robbery last October, were with Bryce. A woman known as Bryce's wife, was in the gang taken by McCarthy.

BONDS FOUND

Authorities have unearthed $500,000 worth of bonds. Four hundred thousand dollars' worth of bonds were found buried under a tree at Silver Lake, Long Island. The remainder was found in the bottom of a trunk when police raided Bryce's luxurious Gramercy Park apartment. Last October seven masked men robbed a mail truck of $2,000,000. McCarthy, agent for the American Railway Express Company, started at the bottom of society—New York underworld, in search for the gang. He posed as a "dip," impersonated a yegg and proved he could "soup" a safe and blow it clean. He wormed all the secrets from crookdom.

McCarthy searched his way up the bottom of society—and found his quarry at the peak. He learned the two was to meet at an uptown hotel one night.

POLICE CLOSE IN

Lambert was arrested as he was eating a well-chosen meal and conversing with the waiter in Park Lane. Police closed in on Bryce and Haines who were leaning against their Rolls-Royce on the corner.

McCarthy led the prisoners and his operatives to the Gramercy apartment of Bryce.

McCarthy was politely introduced to a woman, the prisoner called "Mrs. Bryce." As she poured tea on command of Bryce, the apartment was wrecked by detectives in search of loot. Several pistols equipped with maxim silencers were unearthed and hundreds of rounds of ammunition found.

Bonds valued at $100,000 were found in the bottom of one of Bryce's many trunks. At Haines' apartment, coupons said to have been detached from some of the stolen bonds were found.

STEALS COAL FOR TRIO; PETERS DRAWS $25 FINE

Acting Criminal Judge E. M. Botkin failed Wednesday to see the necessity of three men, "bitching" together, getting coal any other way except by buying it. That's why Thomas Peters, 65, of 334 E. North-st, who said he was one of the trio, was fined $25 when he admitted stealing 400 pounds of fuel from the B. & O.

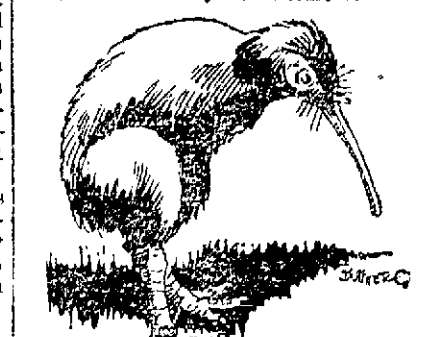

Peters said he took the coal Monday night. It was the first time he had stolen coal for use by himself and the other two members of the bachelor trio, he said, but the court held he should have paid for it. He had a bottle of Jamaica ginger in his pocket, but Peters said it was given to him.

Unable to pay, he was sent to jail.

The Origin of Word "Kiwi"

By PROF. M. J. ELROD
Chair of Biology, University of Montana

THE origin and use of the word "kiwi" is an illustration of the ease and facility with which a slang word may come into common use. The manner and method of its use would be very interesting could it be known. It probably originated with a zoologist. The kiwi-kiwi is a New Zealand bird of the ground, awkward, clumsy, big-footed, with long bill and short useless wings. It has wings, but it cannot fly. The pleasure of speedy movement thru the air is not for it. The delights of speedy travel it may never know for it must always clumsily shuffle over the earth "atoot." Indeed, so deficient is it in desirable bird traits that it has a very hard time to maintain an existence, and is almost extinct. Even as compared with the ubiquitous English sparrow in the United States, which thrives and proliferates in the unhappy environment of heavy traffic, electric wires, numerous dogs and cats, boys and girls which nearly everywhere put a price on its head, the kiwi is greatly inferior. It would disappear in a day under the same conditions which are met by other birds generally. It is a ground gripper, a non-flier. Never, never can it fly, no matter what the desire or provocation.

It is hardly necessary to complete the metaphor. It is too apparent.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT IS ACCREDITED BIG SUCCESS; CLOSED TUESDAY NIGHT

Allen-co's Historical Pageant came to a close Tuesday night with one of the best and most interesting performances of its kind ever seen in Lima.

Portions from the first half of the pageant were combined with parts of the latter half and the 1,000 spectators were treated to a performance of practically the entire historical outline.

A feature of the performance was the crowning of Mrs. Stanley Blunk as queen of the pageant. Appropriate ceremonies incident to the occasion were carried out.

Singing by a colored chorus and the athletic work of the Y. M. C. A. teams were the most interesting portions of the program. If the applause of the crowd could be taken as a criterion.

The pageant was managed, planned and directed by members of the Lima chapter No. 6, A. I. U. Civic organizations cooperated with them in making it a success. Any profits which may accrue will be used for welfare work.

DELPHOS SHOP WORKERS JOIN RANKS OF STRIKERS

DELPHOS—Nearly 100 men left their work in the Clover Leaf shops here, joining the general strike of shopmen, when orders were received from union headquarters in Chicago. The list includes machinists, boiler-makers, car repairers and inspectors.

Word has been received here that the men in the shops at Madison and Charleston, Ill., are on strike. It is reported that the East St. Louis and Frankfort, Ind., shops are still operating.

OBJECT TO COST OF NIXON SEWER

Property Owners Seek Injunction Against Assessments

HEARING SET FOR JULY 17

General Reassessment Demanded By Plaintiffs

(Associated Press)

Application for a temporary restraining order enjoining the city of Lima, Josiah F. Jones city treasurer and C. R. Phillips, county auditor, from levying and collecting assessments on the Nixon-av sewer was filed in common pleas court Wednesday by five owners of property abutting on the proposed improvement.

The protesting taxpayers are: Mrs. Mary J. Barber, Fred R. Randall, Leroy Mines and Anna Mae. All either reside or own property along Nixon-av, they state.

An order restraining the city from collecting assessments on the sewer is sought on the ground that the cost is excessive. The plaintiffs allege that the assessed cost represents at least twice the actual value of the property.

DEMAND RE-ASSESSMENT

Demand is also made for a general re-assessment on the ground that the cost is not spread among interested taxpayers in a uniform manner. The sewer is located in W. Market-st and enters Nixon-av for some distance.

It is asserted by the protestants that the ordinance assessing the abutting property was passed by city council without notice to them.

They charge that the sewer, while designated as a local relief project is in reality a main trunk sewer. For this reason, they assert that the assessment should have been spread over the entire area drained by the improvement.

July 17 has been set by the court for hearing testimony in the matter. Summons was served on the several defendants Wednesday by Sheriff Charles W. Baxter.

C. R. Phillips, county auditor, was made a defendant in the case because it has been customary to certify municipal assessments to his office for collection along with regular taxes.

Nixon-av sewer was completed late in 1921.

SCORE AFFECTED

A score of property owners are affected. Investigation at the city hall made by an attorney for the plaintiff disclosed, it is said, that three property owners were assessed an average of more than $600 each. The assessments of the remainder will average $300 each, it is stated. The assessments may be paid in a lump sum, if the owner wishes. Otherwise the cost is spread over 10 years, at six per cent interest.

HERMIT IS FOUND DEAD

ST. MARYS—James Hudson, 77, was found dead in his bed at the Auglaize-co infirmary. Death was entirely unexpected, as he was apparently in his usual good health prior to Monday. Hudson has no surviving kin. He was a hermit living in a shack near here until 1918, when he was found nearly frozen and removed to the county institution.

CHILLY SNAP IS NEAR TO CLOSE

On the lookout for more seasonable weather, Ted is occupying a rather elevated position this day, welcoming the return of the sun's warm rays and hoping for better crop growing conditions.

The welcome news is released by the weatherman that 'twill be fair and somewhat warmer tonight and Thursday.

Hunting sunshine for comfort in early July is rather a new sort of thing, but they've not it during the past few days. And the end is not yet—but near.

Gas fires in homes were required to take off the chill, overcoats have been requisites of comfort for several evenings past and the populace has been wondering what the weather vagary means, anyway.

As a weather adjunct, Ted has been a disappointment to himself. While hoping for seasonable conditions, his influence with the forecaster has not been of the sort to secure desired results.

NEW CONFERENCE ON DISPOSAL

Parley Planned for Thursday on Oxidation System

Further conferences regarding the proposed direct oxidation sewage disposal system will be held Thursday between H. Jerome Hirst, sewage expert and city officials.

This conference has been called as a result of a letter received by the city officials from the state board of health. In this letter more information regarding the proposed system is requested.

It is the opinion of the state board that the system proposed for Lima will be too expensive to operate and that it may not do the work expected of it.

City officials are confident that the direct oxidation method will be very satisfactory to the citizens of Lima and that it will be cheaper to operate than any other method, they state.

Hirst is expected to outline fully the cost of the plant proposed for Lima and give an estimate of the expense of its operation. He will also be quizzed as to the efficiency of the method.

Scientific publications recommend the use of lime and electricity for the reduction of sewage as in this method and claim that it kills practically all bacteria, officials point out.

In the cities where it has been in operation it has proven very successful and is doing all that is claimed for it, Mayor Harold Cunningham says. He inspected several of the plants some time ago.

Following the Thursday conference complete information as to the proposed plant will be sent to the state board of health. Hingham said City officials hope that the plans will be promptly approved so that bids can be asked upon it.

SPRAYING RINGS ARE PLANNED

Farmers of Allen-co to Unite in Fight on Potato Insects

GREEN BUGS DESTRUCTIVE

Attack by Pests Causes Tipburn, or Hopperburn

Spraying of potato plants is the only thing which will protect them from tipburn, or hopperburn as it is now known, H. J. Ridge, farm agent said Wednesday.

It has been definitely established by agricultural experts in the employ of the state that a little green insect, appearing on the vines now, infects the leaves and causes them to burn, Ridge said.

Tests made by 56 farmers working with the state department show that spraying for this infection from three to six times during the period of its growth will considerably increase the yield, a report states.

Bordeaux mixture, now used by farmers as a disease spray rather than an insect remedy is the material used in fighting the insects and stopping the spread of the tipburn. It is very easily made, it is stated.

This mixture should be sprayed on the plants. A pipe a few inches from the ground and with a nozzle pointing upward will place the spray mixture where it will do the most good, Ridge says.

CROPS DECREASED
Many Allen-co farmers have stopped raising large crops of potatoes because of the trouble incident to their cultivation. Much of this is due to the fact that proper sprayers are not available, Ridge says.

In other counties spray rings have been established, several farmers combining to purchase and operate a sprayer of the size and with the attachments needed, he said.

No spray rings are to be found in Allen-co now, but plans are on foot to start several if enough farmers are interested in the growth of potatoes for other than their own use.

There is much land in the county which would be very good for the raising of potatoes, altho it does not rank as high as that in the western portion of the state, Ridge believes.

HOURLY SERVICE ON W. O. TO START ABOUT JULY 10

Hourly service on the Western Ohio Interurban railway will be inaugurated about July 10, according to announcement made by H. V. Swinehart, electrical engineer. Turbine trouble at the St. Marys power house has delayed starting increased service, Swinehart said, due to lack of power for the operation of additional cars.

Repairs are expected to be completed by July 10. The service is to be inaugurated on the Lima-Piqua division first, it is stated. Later it is expected that the change will be extended to the Wapakoneta-Celina division.

New steel passenger cars ordered by the company are to be delivered about July 20, officials state.

Soft Tires waste power

If your tires are not properly inflated you ride on rubber instead of air. Power is wasted, the life of the tires is shortened, and troubles occur which are often annoying and expensive. Test every tire regularly with a gauge — not with the hand or the eye — and keep them at the pressure named by the tire manufacturer.

Proper inflation of tires is one of a number of things which affect the mileage you get from a gallon of gasoline. Read about the others in that interesting, comprehensive booklet, "Gasoline." Free at Red-Crown service stations and dealers.

World Will Soon Be Too Small For Outlaws

ALL STEPS ARE TAKEN

Work on Criminals Now Possible Throught Nation

BY CHIEF PHILIP SMITH, Chief of Police, New Haven, Conn., and President, the International Association of Police Chiefs. NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(Special.) The earth soon will be too small to hold a crook wanted in any corner of it! Two steps of vital importance in catching have just been taken.

First, an international police headquarters, a world police station, an international chief and co-ordinating police departments in every section of the globe, is not far off.

No crook too small for a crook. The rhythmic slogan of this plan with radio, wireless, cable and every new scientific device to aid will soon be no such thing as an international crook.

WORLD TOO SMALL. The world is small," goes the slogan, but police chiefs are preparing to make it still smaller for criminals.

They are going to have an international bureau of identification, a Washington and government headquarters as the American headquarters, a standardized system of punishment, a uniform code of offenses and punishments—the first "league of nations" against breakers.

The other important step is that police chiefs have won, after a long fight, a National Bureau of Criminal Identification in Washington, operating under the Department of Justice and consolidating the data of the hands of the federal government with that held by individual police departments.

This interchange of data, considered an imperative step for many years but never achieved because of lack of finances, will bring about the most elaborate identification system ever known.

Police chiefs now have been urged to cooperate in a nation-wide crime program. Here are the standing actions to be coordinated:

ONE: Rigid prosecution of drug peddlers. The drug evil has been on a place among the first crime sins. Peddlers and supply agents at the sent to jail for maximum terms and no probation considered. Users must have necessary attention.

TWO: Handy "ball bond sharks" to go. They have stood in many cases as corrupters of officials and eaters of justice.

THREE: Any person carrying a gun in connection with a crime is a potential murderer. We must fight probation in all cases of persons and the like where guns are used.

FOUR: Auto police details must be equipped with armored cars and proper weapons for fighting the most desperate type of criminal—the payroll bandit, the auto bandit and the stick-up man.

American police chiefs plan to keep police headquarters equipped with the latest scientific devices, laboratories, experts and chemical testers. The crook is seldom behind in using the latest inventions, but

TROOPERS READY FOR STRIKE DUTY

Rioting Breaks Out in Coal Fields of Ohio

WORKERS CLASH IN EAST

Men Are Shot Down and Property Destroyed

COLUMBUS.—(Associated Press)

Because of reports of disorders in the coal fields of eastern Ohio, the adjutant general's office has ordered commanding officers of the Ohio national guard to be prepared for possible troop movements.

The adjutant general's office said this morning that these orders to commanding officers were verbal and pointed out that state officials had been receiving reports of disorders.

Under the verbal orders, the commanding officers were asked to make arrangements to receive quick calls.

The verbal orders did not provide for any preparation in setting equipment in order or for the mobilization of troops at armories.

INVESTIGATION BEGUN

Chalmers Wilson of Columbus, representing Adjutant General Florence, went to St. Clairsville, Ohio, yesterday to begin an official investigation of recent disorders near there. According to reports reaching here, the disorders resulted from attempts of striking miners to stop the operation of strip mines in Belmont-co.

The latest outbreak was Monday night when Charles Meyers, a mine guard, was shot and beaten by several hundred strikers, and eleven cars of coal were destroyed.

Major Frank Hume, commanding officer of national guard troops in this district, stated Wednesday morning that he had received no orders of possible mobilization.

Neither had Captain O. A. Dupes of Company G, infantry, nor Captain Calvin Selfridge of the Lima artillery unit received such instructions, they stated.

STRIKE SITUATION

WASHINGTON.—(United Press)

Strong pressure was brought to bear today on the anthracite section of President Harding's coal peace conference for resumption of hard coal production within ten days.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover had Secretary of Labor Davis hope to have anthracite men reach an agreement to call off the strike.

Representatives of the anthracite operators and the hard coal miners today stated they were prepared to discuss their difficulties tomorrow in "a spirit of friendliness and hope."

STOCKS DWINDLING

The miners' strike is now in its fourteenth week and coal stocks are dwindling rapidly. Less than 35 days supplies is in reserve, it is estimated. Railroad and public utilities have the largest reserve. Other industries, however, are not so well prepared. When the bituminous conference reopens next Monday, coal stocks on hand will total less than 3,000,000 tons, it is estimated.

Davis, who prepared a plan for federal arbitration to the anthracite section, but withheld it, said he would submit it next Monday if another deadlock appeared in prospect.

The cabinet officials are bending every effort to force a settlement of the strike at the earliest possible moment. Harding, who talked in plain terms to the conference last week, will be back in Washington in time for the Monday conference and if his cabinet members find they cannot make headway, it is understood the president will step into the breach.

Dilemma Faced When Home Is Invaded By Bees

O. B. Crites, Shawnee-tp, is in a very serious predicament and does not know what to do.

His life is in danger and, to his knowledge, there is nothing in the world which will save him except whisky. Yet if he provides himself with it he is breaking the law.

On two occasions he has been near death because of bee stings and on each occasion was saved by the immediate administration of the fiery liquid, he says.

The last time he was stung by bees he was speechless and helpless from the poison. A few teaspoonsful of diluted whisky revived his heart and loosened his muscles, he states.

Tuesday night he and his family returned home from a celebration and found that a swarm of bees had established themselves in his home. They had entered thru a half-inch hole in the sliding and were preparing to stay.

Wednesday Crites found himself in a predicament. Whether he moves his bees leaves them alone, he is in danger of being stung and this might be fatal, he fears, unless he is protected by the only medicine he has found efficient in case of bee stings.

There is considerable doubt as to whether impending danger is sufficient grounds for the issuance of a physician's prescription and it is feared that the question would have to go to Commissioner Haynes.

NEAR 100 LIMA ROTARIANS VISIT MARION CENTENNIAL

Lima Rotarians and their wives who attended the Rotarian dinner at Marion Tuesday report a most enjoyable time. There were between 80 and 90 in the party from Lima.

President and Mrs. Warren C. Harding, General Charles Dawes and General John J. Pershing were guests at the dinner. General Dawes and Pershing spoke to the Rotarians.

Following the dinner, the entire party went to the fair grounds where General Pershing and President Harding addressed the huge crowd gathered there. Amplifiers made the voices of the speakers heard in all parts of the grounds.

Marion has entered fully into the spirit of her centennial celebration. Rotarians say. Every store window contains an exhibit of relics of historic interest and are very interesting, they said.

Practically no trouble was experienced by the Rotarians during the trip to Marion or the return to Lima. Several tire punctures were reported but that was all. A service car accompanied the Lima party.

S. D. Warner, Philadelphia operator, and District President William J. Brennan, one of the miners' representatives, said that they had been working on programs of settlement for the past few days and that they hoped to be able to thresh out their difficulties tomorrow.

The miners' strike is now in its fourteenth week and coal stocks are dwindling rapidly. Less than 35 days supplies is in reserve, it is estimated. Railroad and public utilities have the largest reserve. Other industries, however, are not so well prepared. MINISTER, 72, WALKS CIRCUIT

He is a Scot, a graduate of Edinburgh University, 72 years old, and of the Episcopal faith.

For 20 years Lee-co, eastern Kentucky, has been his field. It is a wild, mountain country, with only four miles of good roads. The "circuit rider," who, however, does not ride, travels it on foot, despite his age, often covering 20 miles a day.

For the use of "his people" he has given a settlement house, a "frame" provided Wednesday by the city engineer.

This "frame" will then be used in the making of blue prints for distribution among the city commissioners and for filing purposes. Good hopes to have the budget completed by Friday and ready for presentation at the meeting of the city commission Monday night.

CURRENT RATES TO REMAIN SAME, PENDING CONTRACT WITH NEW POWER COMPANY

Pending negotiations with the Ohio Power Co. and other distributors of electrical power, the Ohio
Electric Co. will be permitted to continue to sell power until November 1.

At a meeting of the city commission the franchise granted August
2, 1920 was continued to November
1. The franchise had been granted for but two years. No changes in rates are made.

Steps toward the building of a gi-gantic system of relief sewers were taken at the commission meeting.
They are to be called the South
Main-st., Michigan-ave., Bellefon-taine-ave. and Watt Town sewers.
Approximate cost is $800,000.

Vaughn Miller, city engineer, was instructed to draw up the estimates of cost from the plans already prepared and in the files of the city.
This will be done immediately.

Ordinances to limit the distance electric signs may extend from a building, to stop the pouring of volatile fluids into sewers and to compel the building of sidewalks on nine streets were considered by the commission.

SLOW ON ROAD WORK

ALLEN-CO, usually up and doing in the important matter of improvements and all things that make for progress, has been woefully weak in the matter of a movement for good roads.

This became apparent less than a year ago and what has been accomplished since that time is ample evidence of the fact that the people have been asleep, figuratively speaking. A map issued by the state highway department is further proof. Every important center of population in Ohio, save Lima, is indicated as possessing a requisite number of improved highways, in keeping with the progress of road building in the state.

Lima is indicated on the map as the field of operation for a big mileage of work in 1922. Much of that program is now under way. We are now making up for lost time. The only danger now for the future is that of becoming derelict on the job. The spirit of "let George do it" must not creep in. The five-year program must be carried out; added to it possible, rather than being pared down.

In the past there has been too much building of short stretches of road, leaving long gaps of almost impassable highways between. The gaps are now being closed. Allen-co is coming into its own. With farmers awake to the fact that good roads pay and with the chamber of commerce, civic clubs, the auto club and the good roads council on the job, it is not believed that there will be a slackening of the road building movement. Allen-co has long had the reputation of possessing poor roads. The stigma is being removed. Public officials who are opposed to progress in road work are not representing the will of the people.

WAR ON RODENTS

THIS newspaper has repeatedly voiced the necessity of organized warfare against the rat pest in Lima. Due to lack of extraordinary effort on the part of the people in endeavoring to decimate the ranks of the rodents, the destructive pests have multiplied in such numbers that they have actually become a serious menace.

Too many places where they are afforded the opportunity to breed and increase in numbers are tolerated. Refuse piles, buildings resting on the ground with improper foundations, old shacks with loose boards where the destructive animals find entry, are entirely too numerous. Sporadic effort will not head off the four-footed, disease carrying animals which not only eat thousands of dollars worth of foodstuffs prepared for mankind every year, but pollute and make useless many more thousands of dollars worth of supplies yearly in Lima alone.

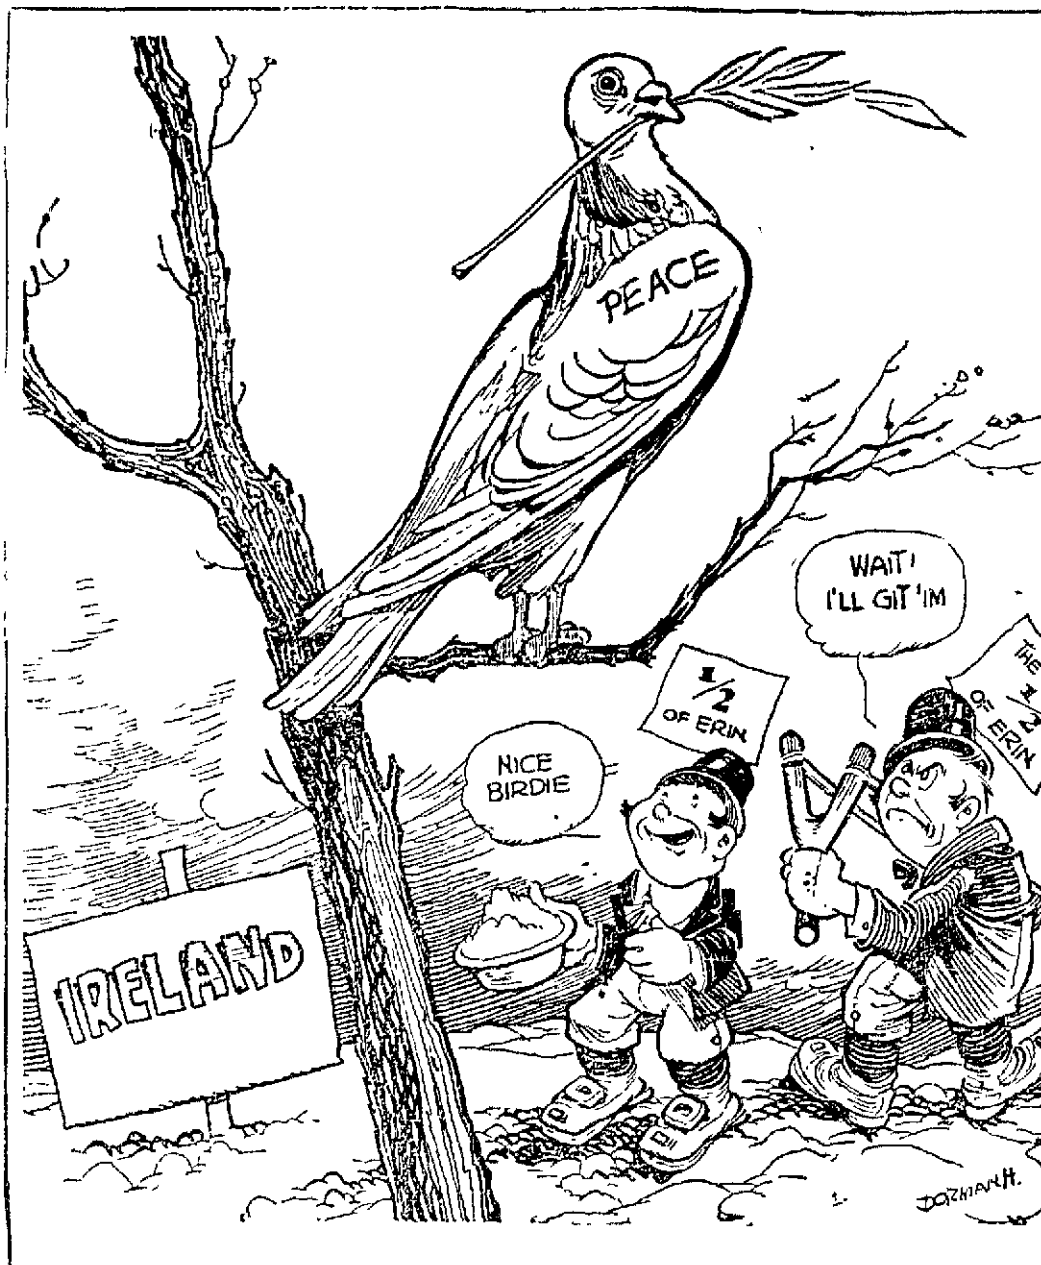

The taxpayers of this city would be large sums of money ahead each year if the officials of Lima acted to stimulate rat extermination, by offering a small bounty on rodents killed. No matter how careful individual householders, manufacturers, business men and others are to keep their premises clear of rats, it cannot be done while others are lacking in the application of similar methods of eradication.

A REMARKABLE RECORD

MEAGRE mention in the news columns of The Lima News tells that Monsignor A. E. Manning, pastor of St. Rose Catholic church, has completed a service of 42 years in the priesthood.

The anniversary, as Monsignor Manning would have it, did not command extended detail in print. He merely announced from the pulpit of the church where he has labored for nearly 29 years continuously, that Sunday was the anniversary of his ordination, asking for the prayers of his people that he may be spared to continue in the work of the Master, that his efforts may be attended by success and that he may be blessed with health and strength.

Father Manning, known and respected by most every man, woman and child in Lima, is a modest churchman. He is indeed a Father to his flock. His life has been such that it is not surprising his parishioners love him and that those who are outside the great church he represents are compelled to admire him. Many thousands of people of this city, Catholic, Protestant and even unbelievers, wish him many more years of usefulness.

To have served in the vineyard for 42 years is a remarkable achievement, considering the arduous form of duties that fall upon a priest of the church. Those who have the idea that the life of a pastor, Catholic or Protestant, is an easy one, are greatly in error. Theirs is a life of service, of self denial, of labor that is exacting. They must live as they exhort others to live. They must be shining examples for others to emulate. The way is hard at times, but they do not shrink from it. All honor to these men who point the way for others to higher and nobler things.

Abroad, and did receive a brave postcard from Captain B. Kenneth Kerr and his bride. With the Canadian drop shown thereon. And in pencil, told me they had tested of the aged in the wood 2 1-2 per cent from Montreal. And too, against my advice, did take sat on the Maid of the Mist. Being Lord's Day returned early for lunch, on lamb's chops, very good; potato cakes and a garden salad, with red raspberries for a chaser. Cranked up the gas boat and drove slowly about, picking out the honeys I would buy. And far out on West-Elm, tarried at the campmeeting grounds where the colored divine wears no shoes becoz Jesus didn't. Yet he (the shoeless one) is seventy-three years of the age A. D. And no shoes, winter or summer; which proves shoes are useless things. And so I told my wife, poor wretch, albeit she would not agree.

In the afternoon, with my wife and Betty drove out in American township. And Betty said she didn't like my back, becoz there was no face on it. Thence to Horn's Place, on Savings square, corner Lizzy-st. And into his bar. Little tables, little chairs, spoons for stirrers and the glass ware. But think as I could, no drink called to me. My education in such bars having been sadly neglected. So I took glass straight, the straight bringing back memories.

Home, and talked long with my wife about our frugal life which must be for the time to come. Proposing to her what I could and would do if Sinclair would behave. And she seemed much pleased, saying she would write Mr. Sinclair in her own handwriting. And we, both of us on the good book, took vow anew to keep ourselves by rules from expenses. So at twilight, over to Jake's Place, where we had the greato dining room as our own. No one about but the pleasing waitress. After a soup, there was a capon, nicely broiled, with mother-of-pearl gravy; corn and sweet peas, head lettuce with St. Lawrence river dressing. And a choc parfait for the sweet. We sat long in discourse, and played w owned Jake's big house. Yet, vexed much over the 26 chickens and capons, Jake had to cut up for the dinner and no one to buy them.

So out, and back to the cottage. Reading long on Carnie's Folly and the Canadian wilds. And for a night cap, we took a tanzy of two neats' tonsurs, a jowl of salmon and cheese, with some home brew, tensed in Alkcohol Massage. And so to bed.

and during sleeping hours we build up the body. As a matter of fact, we are tearing down both day and night, and we are always building up. The work of destruction and the work of repair go on incessantly. The difference is that we destroy faster during the day than we can build up. At night the activity of the body is less and the work of repair has a chance to get ahead.

During sleep, a great deal goes on in the mind. Science is beginning to find that it is not only a time for physical growth, but also, perhaps, a time for mental growth and character formation. Impressions gained during the day are worked over at this time, new resolutions which have been taken, become rooted and strengthened; new ideas are digested and given their place in the memory. It seems to be the time when the mind sorts over its experience and casts up accounts.

Every day science is making new discoveries in this direction and perhaps will soon throw some light on an everyday condition that is yet shrouded in mystery.

TALK

Conversation is a bore,
 It's wearisome debate,
 Just because we gabble more
 Than our thoughts necessitate;
 We repeat, reiterate,
 Till the air with words is thick;
 Boy, if you'd grow rich and great,
 Say your say—and say it quick!

Don't expect to hold the floor
 While you wander and you prate;
 Think things out a bit before
 You arise and "beg to state."
 Do not make us wait and wait
 For the point, till we grow sick,
 Strike a short and snappy gait,
 Say your say—and say it quick!

During centuries of yore,
 And at this, here, present date,
 Wordy folks have made us sore,
 Sore at them and sort at fate;
 Speech should be both clear and straight,
 Why not learn to do the trick,
 Brevity's a golden trait;
 Say your say and say it quick.

ENVOY

Now to recapitulate—
 Give your phrases pep and kick,
 Spill the dope, and pull your freight,

Why Grow Fat?

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives, begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

Fat that shows—Fat that comes and stays is not only cumbersome, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way! No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, Aperlent pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

Enterprise Drug Store or any good druggist can supply you with a large bottle of Wendell's Sales, Ambition Brand, for 60 cents, and will return your money on the first bottle purchased if you are not more than satisfied.—Adv.

"Nothing quite like it—
 so 'sweet', so mild"

Would you like to know why there is "nothing quite like" Dutch Masters?

LONG before we had manufactured a single Dutch Masters cigar, we had formed a fairly definite impression of what Dutch Masters might be. We had in mind something out of the common run of good cigars—a cigar with a flavor distinctly and peculiarly its own.

From the Island of Java we secured the right wrapper leaf for the results we wished to obtain. In the Island of Cuba we found the desired Havana filler tobaccos. Much time was spent in experimental curing and blending processes, so that the flavor of this new cigar—Dutch Masters—might fairly reflect the individual characters of its varied tobaccos.

The world of smokers knows how successful were our efforts to create a new and different kind of cigar. Dutch Masters "registered" from the start. It proved to be what is known in the industry as a "natural seller." From that day to this, we are glad to say, Dutch Masters has gone on making sales records, and breaking them almost as fast as they were made.

We pin our faith to Dutch Masters, because we know, better than anybody else, what goes into it, and how painstakingly it is put together. Many thousands of smokers evidently share our conviction that for tobaccos and for workmanship, there is nothing quite like Dutch Masters.

ire Department Gets No Calls—Four Arrests

Another Independence Day passed without the morbid anticipations of "ill joys" being realized. The 16th anniversary of the throwing of Uncle Sam of a firecracker into the lap of Johnny Bull was uneventful locally so far as accidents and "restraint" are concerned. Kiddies had the center of the stage laid down the annual barrage, it was fun without serious consequences. Police had a quiet day, their chief happening to be a round-up of quartette of drunks who laid their oolies at the door of a pint totor no celebrated with wetness instead dry powder by passing the "swig" round.

OUR ARE FINED
Thomas Angling, 33, of 332 N. Jackson st., S. F. Bussey, 38, of Columbus, A. C. Everett, 30, of 126 E. Hallist and L. Gissling, Kenton, made up the quartette. The local men and Gissling told Judge Botkin Wednesday they had the drinks slipped to them here, Everett on E. Kirby-st., issuing at McCullough's park and plying on N Central-av, but they did not know the fellow who did the lipping, they said. Bussey declared liquor was a remarkable coincidence. "Rather a remarkable coincidence," our home in Sidney and become re liquor in Lima, while on your way to Detroit," Botkin said to Bussey after the latter told him he was going after a job in an auto plant in Michigan. Everett, Gissling and Bussey were fined $15 and Angling $25. The only complaint received at headquarters concerning ill-advised celebrations was one concerning the charge of a toy cannon on Bellefontaine-av. The corporals on Bellefontaine-av. chided the boys, but they had piked the gun and retreated. B. H. McClure, 782 S. Elizabeth, reported to police his Ford auto was stolen at McCullough's park at 10:50 m the Fourth. It contained a ladies' blue serge coat and sundry articles of apparel.

IREMEN INACTIVE
No fire alarms were sent in and firemen spent a quiet day with horsehoes and quints. A carefree person tossed a firecracker into an awning in front of a business establishment at Main and Elm-sts early in the evening. Somebody tried to give an alarm, but didn't know how to manipulate the fire box, so bystanders put out the blaze and told the department about it afterward, thus making it a perfect record for the day.

Hundreds of owners of autos spent the day away from the city, large numbers attended the prize fights and the pageant, while many others remained at their homes, enjoying the delightful weather conditions and helping the little folks shoot firecrackers.

After nightfall there were many private displays of fireworks and the 4th of July din continued in all parts of the city until after midnight. Hundreds visited the different parks during the day and picnics proved popular pastime.

SPAYD ON TRIAL

American-tp Farmer Says Mash Was Used for Hog Feed

Were eight barrels of mash found on the Harry Spayd farm, American-tp, intended for manufacturing "spirited beverages"? Or was the mash contained intended for consumption by hogs?

The question is up to Judge Fred C. Becker to determine. Sheriff Charles W. Baxter, after making two trips to the Spayd farm arrested the owner, despite his assertions that the mash was hog feed.

Spayd, still maintaining his innocence, went on trial Wednesday. No whiskey or still was discovered by the officers. Boxes containing hundreds of empty flasks were found however, witnesses told the court.

John Beach, a farm hand, testified that Spayd sold him a pint and a half of whiskey June 19. He asserted that the beverage was made two days previously.

Cross examination disclosed that Beach left Spayd's employ on the date of the alleged purchase.

Spayd, neatly attired in a conservative black suit and looking the part of a prosperous farmer and business man, was seated directly behind his attorney. He was accompanied by his wife.

WILKINS APPEALS VERDICT OF $50 FOR ROY HASTINGS

Appeal on error was filed in common pleas court Wednesday by Scott Wilkins, defendant in an action for $299 damages filed in Justice Court May 5 by Roy Hastings. The case originated over the alleged refusal of the defendant to turn over a car.

Hastings was awarded a $50 judgment before Justice W. H. Guyton June 17. He brought suit on the ground that he agreed to buy a sedan from Wilkins for $700. He offered the money but the latter backed out, he says. Hastings represented that he could have realized a profit by re-selling the car.

ONE LAW FOR POOR, AND ANOTHER FOR RICH? ENGLAND IS AGITATED

By MILTON BRONNER
LONDON (Special).—Is there one law for the poor and one for the rich?
That question is being seriously asked here, and the Briton's chief boast always has been that every man, aristocrat or slum dweller stands equal before a British judge.
And the discussion threatens to ruin the political career of Home Secretary Edward Shortt, Liberal minister in Lloyd George's cabinet.
OUTGROWTH OF MURDERS
The debate, which has shook all England, is the outgrowth of two particularly gruesome murders.
Lady White, a gentlewoman, was found last March dead in bed in a hotel, her head battered. At the same time, Olive Young, music-hall favorite, was found slain in her room.
The White killing was fastened on Henry Jacoby, 18, pantry boy. Jacoby, evidence disclosed, was surprised in rifling Lady White's possessions and he killed to make good his flight.
Ronald True, former aviator connected with the aristocracy, was accused of the Olive Young killing. The killing, evidence showed, was deliberately planned with a view to robbing the music-hall girl of her jewels.
Thus, in the White case, a youth of no standing stood charged with slaying a member of the aristocracy. While, in the Young case, a member of the aristocracy was charged with killing a music-hall "nobody."

POLICE GET BIKE

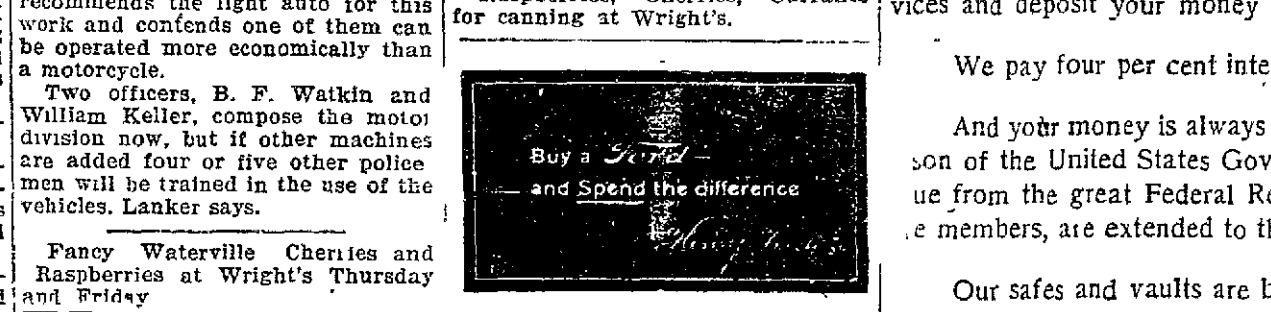

New Motorcycle Replaces Worn-out Department Aid

A new motorcycle for the Lima police department was placed in commission Wednesday, retiring the old machine which has literally fallen to pieces from long and continued usage.
The car is one of the best obtainable and will cost in excess of $300 after all necessary equipment is secured for it, police say. The old machine, which had been in service three years, was junked. Its successor will be used on the new motorcycle.
Chief of Police Lanker's recommendation to the city commission is for at least six new motor vehicles, but according to the present status of the city's finances, only one will be added at the present time.

Lanker greatly favors the motorcycle as a patrol unit. He says they are indispensable for guarding the outlying districts and increase chances of catching criminals who break for the open country. He also recommends the light auto for this work and contends one of them can be operated more economically than a motorcycle.

Two officers, B. F. Watkin and William Keller, compose the motor division now, but if other machines are added four or five other policemen will be trained in the use of the vehicles, Lanker says.

WELLS FREED OF ONE WIFE

Youngstown Millionaire Doughboy Wins Divorce Suit

VALIDATES SECOND MARRIAGE

Supreme Court Passes on Case—Other Decisions

COLUMBUS. (Associated Press).—Thomas A. Wells, the millionaire doughboy of Youngstown, today won his suit for divorce from Stacie Wells, in the state supreme court. The court remanded the case to the appellate court with instructions to dismiss the petition in error.
This action validates Wells' second marriage and establishes the legitimacy of the child recently born to him and his second wife.
CONVICTION REVERSED
The supreme court today reversed the judgment of the Cuyahoga court of appeals in convicting James Morton, Cleveland, alleged leader of a bandit gang, on a charge of robbery.
Morton, with others, was charged with robbing the West Cleveland Banking Company, June 16, 1919. He asserted he was in Chicago on the day of the robbery and made application to take depositions of witnesses residing outside of the state. The application was overruled and the court of appeals sustained the common pleas court in convicting him.
On the appeal to the supreme court it was charged that refusal of the application to take depositions constituted an error and this the supreme court upheld, in reversing judgment of the court of appeals, which will mean a new trial for Morton.
LIENS ALLOWED
Certain mechanics' liens against the Butler Art Gallery, Youngstown, were allowed today by the supreme court. Claims arose when the original contractor went bankrupt and the job was finished by Joseph G. Butler, Jr., founder of the gallery.
Mr. Butler contracted with the John H. Parker Company, for erection of the structure at the cost of $128,450 in 1917. Later the firm was placed in the hands of a receiver and then adjudged bankrupt.
Mr. Butler went ahead with the erection of the art gallery, not entering into contracts with subcontractors of the Parker company. The latter brought suits, claiming payment for various work which they said they had contracts for, and won in the lower courts.
The supreme court today refused to sustain Mr. Butler's appeal on error.
Plaintiffs in the action were the Federal Brass and Bronze Company, Youngstown Ice Company, Union Wholesale Lumber Company, Daizell Brothers Company, Youngstown Wire and Iron Company and the Crab Creek Sand and Gravel Company.
WINS HEARING
Ludie Clifford Shelton, Cincinnati negro, to have been executed July 17, for implication in the murder of Policeman William Dieters in Cincinnati August 28, 1918, will have his case heard by the supreme court, that tribunal decided today.
BUILDING HELD UP
Continuance of work on a building to house city and county offices in Cleveland, for which bond issues of $3,500,000 and $2,000,000 have been defeated, is held up until all the money necessary for the building of the structure is in the hands of the building commissioners, by action of the supreme court today.
TOLEDO CASE DECIDED
A three-fourths vote of the Toledo city council to suspend, alter or amend council rules is necessary, the supreme court held today, sustaining contentions of Edward D. Cullen, vice mayor of the city, and president of council.
BRIDGE TO BE BUILT
Building of a bridge over the Ohio river by the Cincinnati Southern Railway Company, to cost $1,000,000 will go ahead by a decision today of the supreme court.

The cash drawer at the Pennsylvania ticket office, Wednesday morning, was crammed to capacity after a number of oil workers left the window.
Fourteen of them, all headed for Rawlins, Wyoming, paid $60 each for a two-way ticket. When the ticket seller finished counting his cash, he discovered that he had exchanged fourteen strips of paper for $851.20.
The mission of the party could not be determined. The men remain unidentified.

The First National Bank of Lima
Member of Federal Reserve Banking System

A Bank that has rapidly grown into public favor by its conservative, progressive method and a vigorous, liberal policy that pleases its patrons.

What Makes a Bank Grow?

Confidence by the people in a Bank and its management is the first and most essential requisite to that institution's success. That it has grown is proof of the existence of this confidence.

Notice the growth of The First National Bank. Five years ago its assets were about $750,000.00—today they are just a bit short of Three Millions of Dollars.

The Bank's facilities have been increased in proportion to its growth in business and in our capacious banking room we are prepared to give the most careful attention to all business that is brought in to us.

Every man, woman or child who earns money should save a portion of each week's income. We pay four per cent interest in our Savings Department.

If you have not a savings account you had better open one up at once and commence creating a fund for the future.

Do not carry your spare money in your pocket or leave it anywhere about the house. Some one might steal it or the house burn and your money go up in smoke. Avail yourself of our safety devices and deposit your money in The First National Bank.

We pay four per cent interest on time certificates of deposit.

And your money is always safe, for this Bank is under the supervision of the United States Government. All the benefits which accrue from the great Federal Reserve Banking System, of which we are members, are extended to the patrons of this Bank.

Our safes and vaults are beyond comparison for the protection of your money and securities.

Prompt and courteous treatment to our customers; a liberal policy toward all the patrons of the Bank; the lightest and most pleasant banking room in Lima, and a determination to accommodate the patrons of this Bank to the very limit, consistent with the rules of good banking, are among the many attractions we offer to our patrons.

Come in and let us demonstrate what we can do for you.

SLOW ON ROAD WORK

ALLEN-CO, usually up and doing in the important matter of improvements and all things that make for progress, has been woefully weak in the matter of a movement for good roads.

This became apparent less than a year ago and what has been accomplished since that time is ample evidence of the fact that the people have been asleep, figuratively speaking. A map issued by the state highway department is further proof. Every important center of population in Ohio, save Lima, is indicated as possessing a requisite number of improved highways, in keeping with the progress of road building in the state.

Lima is indicated on the map as the field of operation for a big mileage of work in 1922. Much of that program is now under way. We are now making up for lost time. The only danger now for the future is that of becoming derelict on the job. The spirit of "let George do it" must not creep in. The five-year program must be carried out; added to if possible, rather than being pared down.

In the past there has been too much building of short stretches of road, leaving long gaps of almost impassable highways between. The gaps are now being closed. Allen-co is coming into its own. With farmers awake to the fact that good roads pay and with the chamber of commerce, civic clubs, the auto club and the good roads council on the job, it is not believed that there will be a slackening of the road building movement. Allen-co has long had the reputation of possessing poor roads. The stigma is being removed. Public officials who are opposed to progress in road work are not representing the will of the people.

WAR ON RODENTS

THIS newspaper has repeatedly voiced the necessity of organized warfare against the rat pest in Lima. Due to lack of extraordinary effort on the part of the people in endeavoring to decimate the ranks of the rodents, the destructive pests have multiplied in such numbers that they have actually become a serious menace.

Too many places where they are afforded the opportunity to breed and increase in numbers are tolerated. Refuse piles, buildings resting on the ground with improper foundations, old shacks with loose boards where the destructive animals find entry, are entirely too numerous. Sporadic effort will not head off the four-footed, disease carrying animals which not only eat thousands of dollars worth of foodstuffs prepared for mankind every year, but pollute and make useless many more thousands of dollars worth of supplies yearly in Lima alone.

The taxpayers of this city would be large sums of money ahead each year if the officials of Lima acted to stimulate rat extermination, by offering a small bounty on rodents killed. No matter how careful individual householders, manufacturers, business men and others are to keep their premises clear of rats, it cannot be done while others are lacking in the application of similar methods of eradication.

A REMARKABLE RECORD

MEAGRE mention in the news columns of The Lima News tells that Monsignor A. E. Manning, pastor of St. Rose Catholic church, has completed a service of 42 years in the priesthood.

The anniversary, as Monsignor Manning would have it, did not command extended detail in print. He merely announced from the pulpit of the church where he has labored for nearly 29 years continuously, that Sunday was the anniversary of his ordination, asking for the prayers of his people that he may be spared to continue in the work of the Master, that his efforts may be attended by success and that he may be blessed with health and strength.

Father Manning, known and respected by most every man, woman and child in Lima, is a modest churchman. He is indeed a Father to his flock. His life has been such that it is not surprising his parishoners love him and that those who are outside the great church he represents are compelled to admire him. Many thousands of people of this city, Catholic, Protestant and even unbelievers, wish him many more years of usefulness.

To have served in the vineyard for 42 years is a remarkable achievement, considering the arduous form of duties that fall upon a priest of the church. Those who have the idea that the life of a pastor, Catholic or Protestant, is an easy one, are greatly in error. There is a life of service, of self denial, of labor that is exacting. They must live as they exhort others to live. They must be shining examples for others to emulate. The way is hard at times, but they do not shrink from it. All honor to these men who point the way for others to higher and nobler things.

And in pencil, told me they had tasted of the aged in the wood 2 1-2 per cent from Montreal. And too, against my advice, did take sail on the Maid of the Mist. Being Lord's Day returned early for lunch, on lamb's chops, very good; potato cakes and a garden salad, with red raspberries for a chaser. Cranked up the gas boat and drove slowly about, peaking out the houses I would buy. And far out on West-Elm, tarried at the enmpmeeting grounds where the colored divine wears no shoes becoz Jesus didn't. Yet he (the shoeless one) is seventy-three years of the age A. D. And no shoes, winter or summer; which proves shoes are useless things. And so I told my wife, poor wretch, albeit she would not agree.

In the afternoon, with my wife and Betty drove out in American township. And Betty said she didn't like my back, becoz there was no face on it. Thence to Horn's Place, on Savings square, corner Lizzy-st. And into his bar. Little tables, little chairs, spoons for str-reis and the glass ware. But think as I could, no drink called to me. My education in such bars having been sadly neglected. So I took glaze straight, the straight bringing back memories.

Home, and talked long with my wife about our frugal life which must be for the time to come. Proposing to her what I could and would do if Sinclair would behave. And she seemed much pleased, saying she would write Mr. Sinclair in her own handwriting. And we, both of us on the good book, took vow anew to keep ourselves by rules from expenses. So at twilight, over to Jake's Place, where we had the greente dining room as our own. No one about but the pleasing waitress. After a soup, there was a capon, nicely broiled, with mother-of-pearl gravy; corn and sweet peas, head lettuce with St. Lawrence river dressing. And a choc parfait for the sweet. We sat long in discourse, and played we owned Jake's big house. Yet, vexed much over the 26 chickens and capons, Jake had to cut up for the dinner and no one to buy them.

So out, and back to the cottage. Reading long on Carnac's Folly and the Canadian wilds. And for a night cap, we took a tanzey of two neats' tongues, a fowl of salmon and cheese, with some home brew, teased in Alkohol Massage. And so to bed.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well
SLEEP TIME WORK

Sleep is one of those mysterious processes of nature about which science knows but little.

You cannot say that consciousness necessarily disappears during sleep, for the brain does not stop working then. In fact, it often becomes extremely active during sleep, solving difficult mathematical problems or composing poems. And in a less active condition there are dreams.

Nor does the body sleep in that condition which we call sleep. It keeps working incessantly. Its activity is merely reduced to a lower level. The heart beats slower, the blood pressure decreases, breathing is slower and irregular, the muscles are relaxed, the blood supply to the brain is diminished. But still the body is working.

A common misconception is that during waking hours we tear down and during sleeping hours we build up the body. As a matter of fact, we are tearing down both day and night, and we are always building up. The work of destruction and the work of repair go on incessantly.

The difference is that we destroy faster during the day than we can build up. At night the activity of the body is less and the work of repair has a chance to get ahead.

During sleep, a great deal goes on in the mind. Science is beginning to find that it is not only a time for physical growth, but also, perhaps, a time for mental growth and character formation. Impressions gained during the day are worked over at this time, new resolutions which have been taken, become rooted and strengthened; new ideas are digested and given their place in the memory. It seems to be the time when the mind sorts over its experience and casts up accounts.

Every day science is making new discoveries in this direction and perhaps will soon throw some light on an everyday condition that is yet shrouded in mystery.

TALK

Conversation is a bore, It's wearisome debate, Just because we gabble more Than our thoughts necessitate; We repeat, reiterate, Till the air with words is thick; Boy, if you'd grow rich and great, Say your say—and say it quick!

Don't expect to hold the floor While you wander and you prate; Think things out a bit before You arise and "beg to state." Do not make us wait and wait For the point till we grow sick, Strike a short and snappy gait, Say your say—and say it quick!

During centuries of yore, And at this, here, present date, Wordy folks have made us sore, Sore at them and sort at fate; Speech should be both clear and straight, Briefly to golden trait; Say your say and say it quick.

"Nothing quite like it—
so 'sweet', so mild"

Would you like to know why there is "nothing quite like" Dutch Masters?

LONG before we had manufactured a single Dutch Masters cigar, we had formed a fairly definite impression of what Dutch Masters might be. We had in mind something out of the common run of good cigars—a cigar with a flavor distinctly and peculiarly its own.

From the Island of Java we secured the right wrapper leaf for the results we wished to obtain. In the Island of Cuba we found the desired Havana filler tobaccos. Much time was spent in experimental curing and blending processes, so that the flavor of this new cigar—Dutch Masters—might fairly reflect the individual characters of its varied tobaccos.

The world of smokers knows how successful were our efforts to create a new and different kind of cigar. Dutch Masters "registered" from the start. It proved to be what is known in the industry as a "natural seller." From that day to this, we are glad to say, Dutch Masters has gone on making sales records, and breaking them almost as fast as they were made.

We pin our faith to Dutch Masters, because we know, better than anybody else, what goes into it, and how painstakingly it is put together. Many thousands of smokers evidently share our conviction that for tobaccos and for workmanship, there is nothing quite like Dutch Masters.

ROWDS NOISY, BUT ORDERLY

Fire Department Gets No Calls
—Four Arrests

Another Independence Day passed without the morbid anticipations of "kill joys" being realized. The 46th anniversary of the throwing of Uncle Sam of a firecracker into the lap of Johnny Bull was uneventful locally so far as accidents and incendiarism are concerned.

Kiddies had the center of the stage and laid down the annual barrage, but it was fun without serious consequences.

Police had a quiet day, their chief job happening to be a round-up of quartette of drunks who laid their rumpies at the door of a plait toter who celebrated with wetness instead of dry powder by passing the "swigs" round.

FOUR ARE FINED

Thomas Angling, 33, of 332 N. Jackson-st.; S. F. Bussey, 38, of Columbus, A. C. Everett, 20, of 126 W. Haller-st. and Gissling, Kenon, made up the quartette.

The criminal Judge Botkin Wednesday here had the drinks slipped to them by Everett on E. Kibby-st., Gissling at McCullough's park and Angling on N. Central-av., but they did not know the fellow who did the tipping, they said. Bussey declared his liquor was gotten in Sidney.

"Rather a remarkable coincidence," four home is in Columbus, you get four home is in Sidney and become drunk in Lima, while on your way to Detroit," Botkin said to Bussey after the latter told him he was going after a job in an auto plant in Michigan.

Everett, Gissling and Bussey were fined $15 and Angling $25.

The only complaint received at headquarters concerning the fireworks celebrations was one concerning discharge of a toy cannon on Bellefontaine-av. The coppers chased the embryo artillerymen, but they had spiked the gun and retreated.

E. H. McClure, 782 S. Elizabeth, reported to police his Ford auto was stolen at McCullough's park at 10:50 p. m. The fourth it contained a ladies' blue serge coat and sundry other articles of apparel.

THIRTEEN IN ALARM

No fire alarm was sent in and thirteen spent a quiet day with horse-shoes and quills. A carefree person tossed a fuercracker into an awning in front of a business establishment at Main and Elm-sts early in the evening. Somebody tried to give an alarm, but didn't know how to manipulate the fire box, so bystanders put out the blaze and told the department about it afterward, thus making it a perfect record for the year.

Hundreds of owners of autos spent the day away from the city, large numbers attended the prize fights and the pageant, while many others remained at their homes, enjoying the delightful weather conditions and helping the little folks shoot firecrackers.

After nightfall there were many private displays of fireworks and the 4th of July din continued in all parts of the city until after midnight. Hundreds visited the different parks during the day and picnics proved popular pastime.

SPAYD ON TRIAL

American-to Farmer Says Mash
Was Used for Hog Feed

Were eight barrels of mash found on the Harry Spayd farm, American-to, intended for manufacturing spirituous beverages? Or was the mash contained intended for consumption by hogs?

The question is up to Judge Fred C. Becker to determine. Sheriff Charles W. Baxter, after making two trips to the Spayd farm arrested the owner, despite his assertions that the mash was hog feed.

Spayd, still maintaining his innocence, went on trial Wednesday.

No whiskey or still was discovered by the officers. Boxes containing hundreds of empty flasks were found however, witnesses told the court.

John Beach, a farm hand, testified that Spayd sold him a pint and a half of whiskey June 13. He asserted that the beverage was made two days previously.

Cross examination disclosed that Beach left Spayd's employ on the date of the alleged purchase.

Spayd, neatly attired in a conservative black suit and looking the part of a prosperous farmer and business man, was seated directly behind his attorney. He was accompanied by his wife.

WILKINS APPEALS VERDICT
OF $50 FOR ROY HASTINGS

Appeal on error was filed in common pleas court Wednesday by Scott Wilkins, defendant in an action for $239 damages filed in Justice court May 5 by Roy Hastings. The case originated over the alleged refusal of the defendant to turn over a car.

Hastings was awarded a $50 judgment before Justice W. H. Guyton June 17. He brought suit on the ground that he agreed to buy a sedan from Wilkins for $700. He offered the money but the latter backed out, he says. Hastings represented that he could have realized a profit by re-selling the car.

ONE LAW FOR POOR, AND ANOTHER FOR RICH? ENGLAND IS AGITATED

By MILTON BRONNER
LONDON —(Special)— Is there one law for the poor and one for the rich?

That question is being seriously asked here, and the Briton's chief boast always has been that every man, aristocrat or slum dweller stands equal before a British judge.

And the discussion threatens to ruin the political career of Home Secretary Edward Shortt, Liberal minister in Lloyd George's cabinet.

OUTGROWTH OF MURDERS

The debate, which has shook all England, is the outgrowth of two particularly gruesome murders.

Lady White, a gentlewoman, was found last March dead in bed in a hotel, her head battered. At the same time, Olive Young, music-hall favorite, was found slain in her room.

The White killing was fastened on Henry Jacoby, 18, pantry boy. Jacoby, evidence disclosed, was surprised in rifling Lady White's possessions and he killed to make good his flight.

Ronald True, former aviator connected with the aristocracy, was accused of the Olive Young killing. The killing, evidence showed, was deliberately planned with a view to robbing the music-hall girl of her jewels.

Thus, in the White case, a youth of no standing stood charged with slaying a member of the aristocracy. While, in the Young case, a member of the aristocracy was charged with killing a music-hall "nobody."

The trials of both were speedy. The jury found Jacoby guilty, but recommended mercy.

Much money was spent to marshal medical evidence as to True's insanity. The jury didn't believe him insane, found him guilty and made no mercy recommendation.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

In both cases the death sentence was imposed. In both there was an appeal to the highest court and the appeal was dismissed.

Attorneys for Jacoby claim they sought in vain an audience with Shortt to discuss the jury's recommendation. Petitions were signed by many asking for commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment.

But the youth was hanged. Two days later, it was quietly announced a secret medical examination had been made of True and the experts agreed he was insane. He was reprieved and committed to Broadmoor Prison for the Criminal Insane.

SHORT ATTACKED

Immediately all guns were trained on Shortt, who granted the reprieve.

Papers of all degrees of political opinion have combined in attacking Shortt as unfit to hold his job and as even more unfit to wind up his career as a judge, his ambition.

Shortt has been fighting back in statements and in speeches in Parliament. His contention is the law left him no option.

NUPTIAL EVENT OF BRILLIANCE AT ST. GERARD'S

THE marriage of Miss Marie Clancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew C. Clancy, 1016 N. Elizabeth-st., and Edward A. Holtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Holtz, Huntington, Ind., took place Wednesday at 6:30 a. m. at St. Gerard's Catholic church and was celebrated amidst handsome appointments.

Rev. Cornelius Smith, C. P. P. S., Carthage, college friend of the bridegroom, was celebrant of the solemn nuptial mass. Rev. Father Michael P. Loun, pastor of St. Peter and Paul's Catholic church, Huntington, was deacon of the mass. Rev. Father Simon Kohnmuench, Kenton, C. P. P. S., was sub-deacon.

Matthew and James Clancy, brothers of the bride, were servers at the altar. Miss Lucella Clancy, a sister, was bridesmaid. Wayland Recker, Ottawa, was best man. Ushers were Richard Meyers and Donald O'Connor.

Miss Eileen O'Brien played a program of wedding music and Miss Catharine McFarland sang "Because" preceding the ceremony and the "Ave Maria" during the mass. The altar of the church was decorated in stately palms and pink and white summer flowers added an artistic note of color.

The bride wore a gown of white canton crepe, the side panels and sleeves being of handsome Spanish lace. It was fashioned especially to set off her brunette beauty. The long veil was held in place by a tiara of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Miss Lucella Clancy, the bridesmaid, was gowned in orchid crepe, with large picture hat of corresponding color. An old-fashioned bouquet was in her arms.

The flower girl was Christine Falk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Falk, Jr. She wore a frock of filmy white and carried a basket of sweet peas.

A wedding breakfast was served, following the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents. Rooms of the home were fragrant and beautiful in pink and white sweet peas. Thirty guests were seated for the breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Holtz left at noon for a wedding trip of a fortnight without announcing their destination. The bride traveled in a suit of pearl twill, handsomely tailored, with a hat of sand-color silk and accessories to correspond.

Upon their arrival from the trip, they will reside at 843 Cherry-st., Huntington, where they will receive their friends after August 1.

The bride is a graduate of St. Rose Catholic High school and was for some time, an employee of the Lima Trust company. She takes an active part in the work of the various departments of St. Gerard's church.

Mr. Holtz is a graduate of St. Joseph's college at Rensselaer, Ind. He is engaged as an insurance solicitor in Huntington.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Holtz, Huntington; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Holtz, Marion, O.; Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Ziegler and children, Edward, Pauline and Isabelle, Kenton; F. A. Holtz and children, Mary Louise, Dorothy and Robert, of Elkhart, came to attend the wedding.

Thirty young children enjoyed the delights of a picnic at Fairport park, which members of the Lima Day Nursery board extended to the little ones who spend the weeks at the nursery. The event was one of the week-end festivities which will long remain in the minds of the children.

They were first taken for a trip over the city and then driven to the park, where ice cream, cake, candy and pop was served. Childish sports were then enjoyed.

Women of the children, who chaperoned the children on the outing, were Mrs. W. A. Campbell, president; Mrs. Dwight L. Goodyear, Mrs. Frank Boone, Mrs. C. R. Phillips, Mrs. E. E. Baxter and Mrs. Wallace P. King.

Mrs. Frank L. Mairo and Mrs. Oscar N. Young, members of the board, unable to be present, provided automobiles. Mrs. D. L. Goodyear and Mrs. C. R. Phillips also provided cars. Mrs. Evelyn Baughman and Mrs. Harris, assistant matron, accompanied the children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pettler, 801 Brice-ave, have gone on an extended motor trip, which will include Beaver Falls, Pa., and other eastern cities and points of interest.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I AM a stenographer, 22 years old, and work in a flower ten office with a young man three years my senior. Although he has never shown any particular interest in me and has never invited me out, I love him very much and think of him continually. There are other girls in the same office. He treats all of us alike, kindly and considerately, but keeps himself aloof. Will you please tell me how I can become better acquainted with him, as I certainly would enjoy going out with him.

HOPKIN.

RATHER discouraging to you, isn't it, when he sees you every day and all day, and still doesn't invite you to go places with him. About all you can do is to remain hopeful, as you seem to be now and look your prettiest. Try to show just a little more sympathetic interest in his hopes and ambitions, if he has any, than the other girls, but be diplomatic and do not impose your presence on him any more than is necessary.

Dear Susie:

You have helped me out so often that I am writing to you in my latest difficulty. I am a girl 17 years old and go to work with a boy one year older. We are young, I know, but we love each other. About a week ago he asked me to attend a party being given at his aunt's residence, but I refused. He came angry and refused to see me. Please tell me how to regain his friendship, as I know he is fond of me.

PHYLLIS

You do not say whether you could not possibly go to the party. If you had no legitimate excuse, the young man has a reason for becoming angry. He was being very kind in extending the invitation and naturally his pride would be hurt when you refused. Also, your refusal would necessitate some explanation to the aunt, which would not be easy under the circumstances. You will have to square yourself now with a good excuse or an apology.

Dear Miss Smart:

Can you give me a remedy for keeping my hands soft and smooth? I do all my own housework, and my hands persist in becoming chapped and red, especially after dishwashing or doing the weekly laundry.

Keep a bottle of hand lotion convenient in the kitchen and make it a habit to use after washing dishes or any other work likely to injure the hands. Always wash the hands free from laundry soap before applying. The process takes just a minute, and you will be amply repaid by the smooth, soft appearance of your hands.

An excellent lotion for this purpose is made of rose water and glycerin, with lemon juice. Any druggist will mix the rose water and glycerin in correct proportions, at a very small cost, and you can add a little strained lemon juice at home. The lemon is an unrivaled whitenener.

Mrs. K. E. Hafferty and sons Paul and Homer Hafferty and Lawrence Ridenour have returned from Edgewater Park, Col., where they spent the Fourth with Mr. and Mrs. Wade.

Many reservations were made for the dinner, which was served at Shawnee Country club on the Fourth of July, a number of members entertained quite informally a company of friends. Dancing was enjoyed in the late evening hours and a display of fireworks was a feature.

Shawnee Country club was the gathering place for society upon this national holiday, the golf links being filled with interested players from morn until dusk.

Mrs. W. A. Booth and daughter, Betty, Pontiac, Mich., have arrived for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hoyer, 675 W. Market-st.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ripley, 813 Rice-ave, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Shaffer, of Hyde park, Cincinnati, over the Fourth. While there they attended the Latona Jockey club races.

Friends of the Misses Vera and Eula Fisher, 650 S. Elizabeth, when they resided in Wapakoneta, came to the city to spend the Fourth with them in their pleasant home. The party arrived early in the afternoon, enjoying the diversions planned for Independence day and later a picnic supper at the Fisher home.

Five hundred was played in the evening, in which Miss Matilda Nester won first honors and Miss Minnie Hassenauer was consoled. Supper was served before the guests departed for their homes, following an interesting display of fireworks.

In the happy company were the Misses Ethel Bush, Clara Rose and Dorothy Ganther, Minnie Hassenauer, Matilda Nester, Evelyn O'Neill and Carolyn Brands.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McQuaid, 130 W. Kibby-st., entertained most delightfully at their home Sunday, in honor of Arley Lotridge and his bride, who before her marriage was Miss Ada Stroh, Wapakoneta. Mr. Lotridge is a brother of Mrs. McQuaid.

A large white wedding cake centered the table, while summer flowers made fragrant and beautiful the rooms, and added an attractive air to the table decorations.

Seated at the dinner were Mr. Lotridge and bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Tester and Forest Lotridge, all of Wapakoneta, the Misses Audrey and Tessie Steinecker, Daisy Leffler, Edward Young, Don Maxwell and Roger Steinecker and the host and hostess.

Miss Laura Morris Beterman, of Philadelphia, who for the past two weeks has been the guest of Mrs. W. E. Neal, 207 N. West-st., has returned to her home.

Members of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary society of Zion Lutheran church met Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the church, for the regular session.

The marriage of Miss Naomi Earnest Westby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Westby, 512 W. Wayne-st., and Harry Edgar Pickering, Akron, took place Monday afternoon and was quietly celebrated at the First Baptist church. The Rev. Warren L. Steeves, pastor, was the officiating clergyman.

Miss Beulah Barnhart was bridesmaid and Wayne Hoyer, best man. Mr. and Mrs. Pickering left Monday evening for Akron, where they will receive their friends in a nicely furnished home. The bride has been an employee of the Royal Boot shop. Mr. Pickering is connected with the Goodyear Rubber company in Akron.

WHOM SHALL MOLLY MARRY? MATINEE IDOL MAKES LOVE

Heads and Hearts are Dizzy With May Madness as the Handsome Actor Asks for Molly's Hand

By ZOE BECKLEY

Music and the dance were in the blood of MOLLY WAYNE, that night as she fox-trotted on the floor of the Midvale Boat Club. With her were three suitors, each an avowed candidate for her hand. There were BEN WHEELER, keen and efficient manufacturer, and BILLY BARTON, youthful architect. And then there was the good looking dancer then holding her in his arms, DONALD MANNING, leading man in the local stock company.

"Come out in the skiff for a moment," Don pleaded. "I want a talk to you." In the skiff Don opened his silk shirt at the throat and with the moonlight on his handsome features looked unbelovably like some figure in a romantic play.

"I just had to tell you first, of all people, the glorious news!" he was saying. "I've accepted the lead in the Pittsburgh Empire Stock Company. Think of it, Molly! Four years ago I was playing tiny bits. Two years ago I got leading parts here. And now—Pittsburg! Twice the size of Midvale! I'm only 25. Who knows but that two years from now it may be Broadway—my name in lights—then London, money, fame!"

"Don! Oh, how wonderful!" Molly breathed, imagination aglow. "You lucky, lucky boy!" At her words Don slipped to his knees before her. "Am I lucky?" His voice was vibrant with feeling, thrilling Molly thru and thru her being. "Tell me. Don't you know that without you to share it, success won't mean a thing to me!"

He caught her hands and kissed the palms. "Why, Don!" she laughed rather breathlessly, trying to draw her hands away. "Really—honestly, I must say it, stale and stupid as it is."

Families of members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Trinity M. E. church will be privileged to attend the meeting, to be held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Eugene T. Lippincott, 734 W. North-st. Mrs. Harry Thomas, Mrs. C. C. Hosselmann, Mrs. Fred Bergman and Mrs. H. E. Wheeler will be hostesses. Miss D. J. Cable will be in charge of devotions. "What the World Needs" will be the subject of a paper to be given by Mrs. A. A. Doyle. Mrs. Winona Vinson Forrer will favor with a reading. Mrs. H. M. Dille, Mrs. Fred Bradley and Mrs. J. I. Motter will present a playlet, "Miss Friend." Mrs. Dorothy Richards Davison will be in charge of the music.

Mrs. Warren Rudy, Mrs. J. M. Vernon and Mrs. J. C. Leaker will be hostesses of the social hour.

Women of Mooseheart Legion, 52, will hold a social session, Thursday evening, in the new Moose home, West and North-sts. Members of the order of Moose and their families are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Cook, W. High-st., motored to Marion, July Fourth, to attend the centennial celebration of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hoyer, 675 W. Market-st., were honored with a golden wedding anniversary celebration, Monday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hoyer, 661 W. Market-st. Mrs. Charles Herbst, a daughter, presided at a dinner served earlier in the evening, at the E. Hoyer home.

The decorations were carried out in gold and white, a white cake, with 50 gold candles, ornamenting the table.

Mrs. G. A. Benigar (Geraldine Graff) a bride of the early summer, has arrived from Lorain for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Graff, 318 N. West-st.

LEARN A WORD A DAY

TODAY'S word is EXOTIC. It's pronounced egg-ot-ik, with accent on the second syllable and all vowels short.

It means— from a foreign country; foreign; not native. It comes from the Latin—exoticus, meaning "outside." It's used like this—"The trees lent an exotic magnificence to the scene."

about you, Molly, for years. Molly, sweet, be my own girl, dear. I do love you so—" Molly put her hand over his lips. "Don, stop!" She tried with jealousy to hide her deep emotion. "This isn't a time to say such things—under a full moon, in May, gladly with dancing. How'll you feel tomorrow to realize you've asked a girl to be your wife—" He had caught the hand at the word "wife" he made ever so slight a movement, less than a start, more a catching of the breath. But to Molly it was quite perceptible and it seemed as tho her heart had stopped beating and would never go on again. Then, with a rush, Don emotion, stronger than he had counted on, swept him on, past calculation.

"Yes, my wife!" he cried on a gasping breath. "Tonight—next year—all life long I'll sing it—Molly, my little wife!" Crushed to his breast, his lips almost bruising hers, Molly was swept past her momentary shock, away into an irresistible silent ecstasy of assent.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Bill Allgire, radio expert, says he has a friend who is conservative and skeptical. He has had considerable difficulty making him believe radio is what is claimed for it. He regards the receiving instrument as a piece of machinery, and is unwilling to abandon his original belief that "They've got a phonograph hidden in it!"

Jessie Miller, marriage licensee, tells of friends who came to her for a license recently. They were to be married soon. That was a secret. They say they don't know how it got out. But some of the fiancée's girl friends think it may have been thru what she said when Miss Miller was introduced to her at a dance. "Doc and I are coming down to see you soon," they quote her as saying. "I can't tell you what for. It's a secret."

"Why do people hurry across the street in front of passing autos, endangering their lives," asks Delbert Jones, manager of the United Cigar Store, Main and High-fts.

"I watched one man," he says, "He dashed into traffic, and hurried to the other curb as tho he didn't have a second to spare."

"You would have thought he was in an awful hurry."

"Then he noticed a new model auto standing at the curb. So he stopped and spent five minutes examining it."

Wm. Cunningham, bank clerk, was expecting a call from several out-of-town visitors in Lima. They were going to the theater in the evening. But they didn't show up. They had disappeared, leaving no trace. The show was nearly over when they arrived. "We had an hour to spare," explained one. "So we decided to take a street car out for a look at Fawcett Park."

EUROPE FOLLOWS U. S. IN RADIO DEVELOPMENT

BY PAUL F. GODLEY

America's Foremost Radio Authority

AMERICA'S lead in the development of radio can no longer be ignored by foreign countries. They are beginning to sit up and take notice.

Nine months ago, with the exception of one daily newspaper in the British Isles seemed to be decidedly against any comprehensive radio program. But the strides made by America have forced them into line.

The British postmaster general is about to take up the licensing of broadcasting stations throughout England.

The French were more prompt in realizing the possibilities of radio broadcasting. Some time ago they initiated a program which, although somewhat limited, nevertheless broke the ground for more extensive developments later on.

Intense interest in radio broadcasting is shown in Holland, Italy, Belgium, and the Scandinavian countries.

Notwithstanding this interest, no move has yet been made toward the adoption of a public broadcasting program. But there is little doubt that such development will come in the very near future. All the foremost nations of the world soon will be listening to radiophone concerts.

It is now proposed to divide England and Scotland into broadcasting areas of about 60 miles radius centering about London, Cardiff, Plymouth, Birmingham, Manchester, Newcastle, Glasgow and Aberdeen. One or more broadcasting stations will be licensed in each area. These transmitters will be operated by British firms who are home equipment manufacturers of wireless equipment.

One of the largest of London's department stores has already begun to demonstrate inexpensive receiving apparatus of British manufacture. This equipment makes use of a crystal detector and is sold at a price which is equivalent to about $20.

Marconi's Wireless Telegraphy Company, Ltd., has in production 50,000 receivers of similar type which it expects to be able to market during the next few months.

Many other companies are also getting ready for the big rush.

LOUD SPEAKER FOR CRYSTAL SETS

Boys toying with small crystal radio receiving sets may follow the example of Sterling S. Sears of New York, and make their own loud speakers. Sears is shown with his invention. For it he used a special electro dynamic receiving unit and small low potential battery.

FIFTY YEARS AGO
a woman in Lynn, Mass., was steeping herbs on her kitchen stove according to a recipe of her own, to furnish medicine for the women of the neighborhood. Today, a stone's throw from the little house where she lived, there is a four-story laboratory, making the same medicine for the women of the world. During the last year almost 500 tons of carefully selected herbs were used in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
